OUR STORY

There's a moment in every Low Darts show where the age of the musicians becomes just a number. We met in our Fairfield, CT middle school jazz band and emerged from a 2020 pandemic basement project with a mission: reconstruct the greatest rock and soul records of the '70s and '80s exactly as they were made, down to the grooves, harmonies and instrumental parts, including many the original artists never attempted live.

Musical director Colman Connolly produces and mixes every recording in his own studio, now reaching a worldwide audience eager to hear younger musicians preserve one of music's best eras. We stayed together through college (MTSU, Vanderbilt, UConn, Peabody) and have relocated from CT to Nashville, our new home base.
